

What Do You Want? Vision Questions

Some things to keep in mind as you answer the below questions:

- Why do you desire certain things in your life?
- Focus on the positive...what you want vs. the things in your life that you don't want.
- Remember: think outside the box and dream big. Retirement is for dreamers AND doers.
- Think about things YOU want...don't take someone else's dream and make it your own, or change your ideas to suit them. This exercise is about what YOU want.

Questions to help you think about what YOU want

- What are your priorities in life? Remember: this isn't about being correct or what you think you should have as a priority or what others think should be your priorities.
- How do you define happiness now and in retirement?
- What things, experiences, relationships would bring more happiness to your life?
- What would be nice to have "more of" in your life?

- How do you see your career playing out as you approach retirement?
- Do you plan to continue to work in retirement (maybe a 2nd career, volunteer work etc.).
- What are your special talents and contributions in life?
- What personal development would you do if time and money weren't a constraint?
- What personal traits and habits would you like to change about yourself?
- What things do you value in life?
- What issues do you care about in life?
- What is your greatest accomplishment?
- What one thing would you still like to accomplish?
- What legacy would you like to leave behind?
