About

Lynn is the founder and CEO of Her Retirement, a financial wellness and education company with a technology-based platform that helps women prepare for, transition into, and live a better retirement. Lynn saw some gaping holes for women and retirement advice, so she decided to fill them. Speaking of gaps, her proprietary software and retirement readiness process are designed to identify and fill a woman's retirement gaps.

Lynn is a GenXHer on her own journey to retirement. With has a decade of experience in the retirement industry and 30 years launching high-tech and financial services companies. She hosts regular online retirement classes, has self-published several books, has 98,000 followers on TikTok and hosts the popular Her Retirement podcast.

Lynn wants accomplished women everywhere to have financial understanding, independence, and confidence. She believes the Her Retirement platform, with its academic focus, technology tools, and coaching, can help women Know More. Have More & Live More (now and in retirement). Every woman deserves this "more" than ever. Let's Get Her Done.
